Precious Hubby: —

What can be the trouble that I received no mail all day yesterday and here, when I called to-day at the regular time, find there is nothing for me again! Am greatly worried, honey, and in case I do not receive any word to-day, I'm going to telegraph you. I was over exactly 8 times yesterday and here it is 12.30 & I have been over 4 times this morning already. I am almost frantic! Called Rose up this morning but they did not have heard from you yesterday. Dear, I earnestly hope nothing is wrong. I cannot think of a single thing that would cause you to skip write and the mail coming as regularly as it does, alarms me all the more. I am almost crazy with worry and do not know what I shall do if there is no word from you in the next mail which is 2.30 P.M. On Monday, I received your Friday & Saturday letters. Yesterday I should receive your Sunday's letter, which if it did miss the mail I should get it with your Monday letter which always was delivered on Wednesday. But it is, honey, I received neither the Sun. nor Monday letter. Love, dear, I hope, pray, that nothing is wrong. I think, dear, I'll wait until the 2.30 mail before I post this.

Honey, dear, it is now 4.20 P.M. and still no mail. Called Rosie up again and she tells me it has happened before that mail has been delayed 3 days. Shall follow her advice and wait until to morrow morning. Do not know how I shall pass thro the night, but as Rose pointed out to me unless place & your office will be closed ~~but~~ the time the telegram reaches you and I shall have to wait until to-morrow anyway. Dear let me know uncle's home address so in case I should need it, I shall know it

Dear, hope and pray nothing is wrong. I am greatly worried and have been crying all afternoon.

Tearfully
Frances.
